

Dr. Kathryn Tosney

Kathryn Tosney is Chair of Biology at the University of Miami. She was trained at Stanford and Yale, spent many years at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, and is a long-time member of MSH. Although her research is in Neuroscience, her interest in Herpetology is long lived: it began in grade school, when she used to chase the boys with snakes (and rescue the snakes). Now she lives in South Florida, where herps abound, where with each rare frost iguanas rain down from the trees (and are rescued): herp heaven!
